

RESULTS OF RACES

BASEBALL

SHERIFF RAIDS
BLOND GIRL'S FLAT

Absconding Bank Clerk's Sweetheart Disposed--Stable and Furniture Seized-- Foiled at Bank and Jeweller's.

ANNIE HART, THE BLONDE SIREN.

She was Bank Clerk Schrieber's sweetheart on whom he lavished thousands.

Deputy Sheriff Rinn, accompanied by ex-Judge Patrick Gilhooly, of Elizabeth and Lawyer Bertram L. Kraus, of 115 Broadway, served an attachment this afternoon upon the furniture in the apartments of Mrs. Anna Hart, of 155 West Forty-eighth street, upon whom the young absconding bank clerk, William Schrieber, spent the greater part of the $100,000 he took from the Elizabethport Banking Company.

FURNITURE SEIZED.

They went to Mrs. Hart's handsome apartments at an inopportune moment for that young person. She was just finishing a dainty luncheon clad in a yellow China silk gown when Deputy Sheriff Rinn pushed past the colored maid who had opened the door and addressed Mrs. Hart. "I have a writ of attachment to serve calling for the household furniture of this apartment," began the deputy. Mrs. Hart drew herself up and interrupted:

"On account of Mr. Schrieber, eh? Indeed, the furniture here doesn't belong to him. I had it long before I ever saw Mr. Schrieber. Understand, I have other friends besides him, and I can prove it."

HER PROTEST.

"You will have every opportunity. This is merely a formality," said the deputy. "But don't attempt to remove it. You know that would necessitate your arrest."

"Oh, don't worry; go ahead and serve your writ," replied Mrs. Hart, tossing her head. With a bow the deputy placed the notice of attachment in Mrs. Hart's taping and bejeweled fingers. "A fine thing to do. Attach my property for Mr. Schrieber and disturb me while at luncheon, too?"

STABLE GOES TOO.

The next visit of the three agents of the law was to the Colorado Stables, at 25 West Fifty-eighth street. There they

To Cure a Cold in One Day. Use Laxative. See Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund the money if it fails to cure. Dr. J. C. Reed's signature is on each box. 25c.

GIFTS OF A $15 BANK CLERK
TO GIRL IN THE TENDERLOIN.

Rent of apartment at 155 West Forty-eighth street per year.....	$1,500
Furnishing apartment.....	8,000
Horses and carriage.....	5,000
Pearl necklace.....	6,000
Diamond earrings.....	2,400
Diamond crescent.....	1,800
Diamond garter buckles.....	700
Eleven jeweled rings.....	4,900
Gowns, hats, &c.....	7,000
Hand-painted opera cloak.....	1,600
French lingerie.....	1,200
Three dozen pairs silk stockings....	190
Cash gifts.....	12,000
Total.....	$56,290

FOILED AT JEWELLER'S.

"Yes, but there's more," answered Lawyer Kraus, leading the way to Fifth avenue, where, with Deputy Sheriff Rinn, he entered a well-known jeweller's and inquired if jewelry valued at $5,000 and belonging to William Schrieber or Mrs. Hart wasn't in the firm's keeping.

They were met with evasive answers, although a member of the firm practiced attached four horses, a victoria, a drag, six sets of harness, several whips and two saddles, all nearly new and valued at $5,000.

"We're doing quite well," said ex-Judge Gilhooly, of Elizabeth, in whose name the attachments were made in a suit of $50,000 brought by him as a director of the banking company against young Schrieber.

DISPOSSESSED, TOO.

With the departure of the deputy sheriff and lawyers Mrs. Hart's troubles had not ended. The agents of the apartment-house in which she lived served through the janitor a dispossession warrant, which

(Continued on Second Page.)

BOSTON.

0 0 0 0 2 0 0 0 0—2

PHILADELPHIA.

1 2 0 0 2 0 0 0 — 5

FOOTBALL GAMES TO-DAY.

At Manhattan Field—Columbus, O., Williams, O.
At New Haven—Yale, 50, Bates, 0.
At Easton—Manhattan, O., Lafayette, 11.
At Princeton—Penn. State College, O., Princeton, 26.
At Cambridge—Harvard, 19, Amherst, 0.
At Philadelphia—Pennsylvania, 35, Delaware, 0.
At Providence—Brown, 54, Massachusetts Technology, 0.

HARLEM WINNERS.

FOURTH RACE—Proctor, J., Jockey, J. M. Brown, 3.
FIFTH RACE—Blair, L., Jockey, W. Woodell, 2; J. Ashbrook, 0.

GIRL CUT HER OWN THROAT.

Kate Harley, twenty-three years old, tried to kill herself late this afternoon at her home, 130 West 105th St., Brooklyn, by cutting her throat with a razor. She was taken to St. Mary's Hospital in a critical condition.

OUR GOVERNOR TO-DAY.

COL. TREADWELL IN SUPREME COMMAND.

But Timothy Woodruff Will Be Back
To-Morrow, and Then----

(Special to The Evening World.)
ALBANY, Oct. 10.—Col. George Curtis Treadwell was Governor of the State to-day and held absolute command. His gold lace and brass buttons will give way, however, to fancy waistcoats to-morrow for a higher personage. Lieut.-Gov. Woodruff, has promised, in a despatch received to-day, that he will be in town to sign such papers and attend to such matters as an acting Governor without the backing of the Constitution cannot execute.

There will be unusual activity in the Capitol for some two hours when he comes. The gold pen and holder and the plush-covered blotter will be carried in state from the Lieutenant-Governor's room to the executive chamber by Private Secretary Harry Bates and put into operation. Appointments of notaries, communications of sentences and dictations of official letters will all be despatched with haste. The requisition of Gov. Stevens, of Texas, for the extradition to that State of John D. Rockefeller, Henry M. Tagler and other Standard Oil men for alleged violation of the anti-trust law of Texas, which was presented to Gov. Roosevelt at St. Louis yesterday and on which he could not act, being out of the State, will probably be one of the matters upon which Lieut.-Gov. Woodruff will be called to act. It is believed that he will serve notice on the Standard Oil magnates and give them an opportunity to oppose the granting of the requisition. The inability of Gov. Roosevelt to act in the matter, a substantial proof of the inconvenience to those desiring to transact public business, because of his absence from the State.

CLEVELAND TELLS WHAT'S ON HIS MIND.

But He Refuses to Give an Idea How He Will Vote.

Ex-President Cleveland would not tell for whom he will vote next month, but he did confess to an Evening World reporter what was uppermost in his mind. Mr. Cleveland, Mrs. Cleveland, and four little Cleveland children and two nurses arrived at the Grand Central station from Sunnyside Bay at 3 o'clock this afternoon. They were passengers on the Boston express.

Mr. Cleveland was in an excellent humor and his face beamed with his soft white hat like a sun that no cloudy weather could obscure. His brown storm coat was held together by one button at the top and the rest of it was open.

Mr. Cleveland was assisting his family into a Pennsylvania Railroad transfer bus which was to take them to the Twenty-third street ferry on their way to Princeton when The Evening World reporter spoke to the ex-President.

"Will you say anything about the political situation?" he was asked.

He turned with a look of smiling surprise. "The political situation?" he repeated.

"Yes, sir. How do you regard it?"

"No, I won't say anything," answered Mr. Cleveland.

"The people are anxious to know what is on your mind," was suggested.

The ex-President's face became luminous and he gazed frankly at his questioner.

"There is nothing on my mind except that I want to get home as soon as possible," he said.

He must have regretted unbosoming himself so freely, for when the next question was asked his frank demeanor underwent a sudden change.

"Won't you tell how you are going to vote?" he was asked.

There was no answer. All of the party were in the bus at this time but Mr. Cleveland, who was still smiling as he stepped in and shut the door, and the vehicle was driven away.

Hotel Manhattan, 4 Union Sq. (West). Table d'hôte, 5 to 8 P. M., 75 cents.

MINERS RIOT;
TROOPS ASKED5 MEN HURT
IN ELEVATOR

Car Fell Seven Stories
in an Uptown Brewery.

Five men were hurt badly this afternoon by an elevator falling seven stories in the Consumers' Brewery, at Fifty-fourth street and Avenue A. The men were:

FRITZ HEINRICH, a brewer, of 723 Eliphan street, West Hoboken.
FRITZ LORENZEN, a brewer, of 313 East Forty-sixth street.
FRITZ RICKELHOUT, of 549 West Fifty-first street.
FRITZ MEYER, of 313 East Forty-sixth street.
AUGUST GIEDEMAN, the elevator man, of 24 Sutton place, West Hoboken.

The men were riding up in a freight elevator. At the seventh floor the hoisting apparatus broke, letting the cage drop. The brake and safety appliances did not work and the elevator fell to the cement basement floor.

Heinrich had his left foot broken; both of Giedeman's legs were broken above the knees; Rickelhout suffered a broken kneecap, and Meyer's left leg was broken.

All of the men suffered greatly from concussion and nervous shock. They were all taken to Flower Hospital.

WON'T SEPARATE.

Mrs. Melbourne-MacDowell Withdraws Suit Against Her
Actor Husband.

The action for a separation instituted by Wilhelmina Maria MacDowell against William Melbourne MacDowell was discontinued to-day by order of Justice Freeman in the Supreme Court upon consent of Howe & Hummel, attorneys for Mrs. MacDowell, and Dittenhofer, Gerber & James, attorneys for her husband.

Actor MacDowell was arrested on Sept. 3 last on an order signed by Justice McAlpin, and was released two days afterward on giving bail in $200.

The MacDowells were married on June 11 last, and according to Mrs. MacDowell's story, her husband had stated her with great cruelty from the date and had led a life of constant misapprehension.

MacDowell's first wife was Fanny Davenport, the actress.

GUNTHER SENT UP.

His Wife and Six Children Have Him Sentenced to Fourteen Years at Hard Labor.

John P. W. Gunther's wife and six children heard him sentenced to four years' imprisonment at hard labor by Judge Aspinall, in the County Court Brooklyn, to-day on a charge of manslaughter, to which he pleaded guilty.

Gunther, who is forty-seven years old, ran out of his house at 105 De Kalb avenue, Brooklyn, on Aug. 19 last, and in a drunken frenzy stabbed Adam Zimmerman in the heart, killing him instantly. The act was without provocation, Gunther being maddened by liquor and his wife's refusal to give him money.

KILLED BY FALL.

Boy Tumbled from Fifth Story
Window and Was Crushed on the Sidewalk.

Joseph Blaresky, four years old, fell from a fifth floor window at his home, 70 East Ninth street, this afternoon and was killed instantly.

The boy was at play in a front room and leaned far out of another window. He lost his balance and fell before his mother, who was attracted by his cry, could catch him. Almost every bone in his body was broken.

SIX HAVE DIPHTHERIA

Mrs. Hugh Crenke and her five children were taken from their home, 255 Twelfth street, to the Emergency Hospital to-day.

All were suffering from diphtheria, which they contracted two days ago. Two of the children, it is thought, will die.

Diphtheria is epidemic in the Second Ward, in which the Crinke family live, fully one hundred cases having been reported to the Board of Health.

Public School No. 21, founded by 1,500 pupils is just opposite the Crenke house.

Our SECRET should be your aim. It is a high-grade 10-cent cigar, and 10 cents buys it. If your dealer does not handle it patronize the man who does. AUSTIN, NICHOLS & Co., New York.

One Policeman Slain and Fourteen Persons Wounded in Fight.

HAZLETON, Oct. 10.—The second fatal clash between the striking mine workers and the non-union men occurred early to-day at Oneida colliery in Schuylkill County, twelve miles from here, when a Coal and Iron policeman was shot and instantly killed, another policeman and a striker dangerously wounded.

In addition about a dozen of the employees of the colliery were badly injured by being stoned by the strikers. The dead man is Ralph Mills, of Beaver Meadow. George Keller, of Beaver Meadow, is in the Miners' Hospital here with a bullet in his head. The striker wounded is Joseph Lipko, of Shepton, who was shot through the groin.

The shooting was the result of two separate riots. The first began at 2 o'clock this morning and reached a climax about 4 o'clock, when the marching strikers, mostly Hungarians, attacked the men on their way to work in the Oneida colliery, which is operated by Cox Bros. & Co.

The marchers numbered about 300 men, women and boys. Stones were thrown and the Coal and Iron policemen who endeavored to protect those on the way to work were forced to seek shelter. No shots were fired at this time and the marchers then dispersed.

The second clash was the result of an attempt on the part of the company to have a train of coal cars from the slopes moved to a breaker. The engine which was attached to the cars was surrounded by men and women, who stoned the engine. Supt. Kudlick, of Drifton, remonstrated with the crowd, but to no purpose.

The policemen in this instance were employees who had been sworn in to protect the company's collieries. Rev. Carl Houser, a Lutheran clergyman, appealed to the mob to disperse, but his words were unheeded.

Persistent attempts were made to run the train, and the men made a concerted rush upon the guards, who are said to have run in the direction of the engine-house.

The strikers gave chase, and the firing followed. Probably a dozen shots were fired, but not in a volley. It is not

BURNED TO DEATH
IN A LIGHTHOUSE.

Little Daughter of the Keeper of Plum Island
Beacon Burned While Playing
with Matches.

The steamer Manhasset put into Greenport, L. I., to-day with the body of three-year-old Blanche Wetmore, who was burned to death last night in Plum Island Lighthouse in the Sound.

The child's father, Byron Wetmore, is the keeper of the light. While busy in his workshop about 9 o'clock last night he heard his two children screaming with fright.

He ran to the first landing, where he met Ida, the elder of his two girls. She pointed in a helpless way to the floor above.

As he started up the second flight little Blanche came rolling down the stairs. Her clothes were a mass of flames and she was crying feebly as she fell.

The father reached for the little one, but he missed her and she fell to the landing at his feet dead.

She had been frightfully burned. None of her garments was left, and even her shoes were burning as the father picked her up.

Wetmore and his wife worked over the baby in the hope that it might still be alive, but after an hour gave up and laid her out for the grave. All through the night they sat and watched by the charred little body. This morning the light-house keeper sighted the Manhasset, which he knew known from which side the first shot was fired.

After the firing Mills and Keller were found lying upon the ground and Lipko was limping about with his hands pressed over his wound. Mills was dead. His body was removed to the company's store. Several physicians were summoned.

As the result of a brief conference between the company officials, Sheriff John Toole, of Pottsville, was notified that the company was in need of instant protection. He was urged to request the Governor to send military aid.

MARCH OF MINERS.

Over 15,000 Strikers in Parade at Scranton Before President
Mitchell.

SCRANTON, Pa., Oct. 10.—A great parade and mass meeting of strikers took place this afternoon. President John Mitchell and his party, "Mother" Jones, W. R. Fairley, of Alabama, and others, reached here to-day from Shamokin and were escorted to their hotel.

The parade was made up of six divisions, and it was estimated that about 15,000 men and boys were in line. The mass-meeting was held late in the afternoon and many thousands were present. National Organizer Fred Diller was Chairman and Mayor Mohr welcomed President Mitchell and his party.

SHOT BY STRIKERS.

Affray in the Italian Settlement
Near Pittston—Man and Wife Attacked.

(Special to The Evening World.)
PITTSBURGH, Pa., Oct. 10.—Frank and Lewis Amitta, two leaders in the Italian settlement near the Boston mines, attacked the home of Samuel Carrizosa, a working miner, near this city last night, beat down the doors, and gaining an entrance fired their revolvers right and left and used their stilettes.

When the smoke cleared away Samuel Carrizosa was lying on the floor unconscious, with blood streaming from three gaping bullet holes and an ugly gash in the throat. His wife lay in a corner shrieking from the pain of a bullet wound in the abdomen.

When the police reached the scene the wounded had escaped. Mrs. Carrizosa's wound is serious. Two bullets entered her husband's body and one had struck his head above the ear, but did not penetrate the skull. His throat was gashed from ear to ear. He will die.

The strikers gave chase, and the firing followed. Probably a dozen shots were fired, but not in a volley. It is not

BURNED TO DEATH
IN A LIGHTHOUSE.

Little Daughter of the Keeper of Plum Island
Beacon Burned While Playing
with Matches.

The steamer Manhasset put into Greenport, L. I., to-day with the body of three-year-old Blanche Wetmore, who was burned to death last night in Plum Island Lighthouse in the Sound.

The child's father, Byron Wetmore, is the keeper of the light. While busy in his workshop about 9 o'clock last night he heard his two children screaming with fright.

He ran to the first landing, where he met Ida, the elder of his two girls. She pointed in a helpless way to the floor above.

As he started up the second flight little Blanche came rolling down the stairs. Her clothes were a mass of flames and she was crying feebly as she fell.

The father reached for the little one, but he missed her and she fell to the landing at his feet dead.

She had been frightfully burned. None of her garments was left, and even her shoes were burning as the father picked her up.

Wetmore and his wife worked over the baby in the hope that it might still be alive, but after an hour gave up and laid her out for the grave. All through the night they sat and watched by the charred little body. This morning the light-house keeper sighted the Manhasset, which he knew

WEATHER FORECAST.

Forecast for the thirty-six hours ending 8 P. M.
Thursday, Oct. 11, for New York City and vicinity—Generally fair to-night and Thursday; light to fresh northerly winds, becoming variable.